

Adding value, simplifying production

One of the advantages of ALM technologies is the ability to make complex shapes quickly, one area this can be very advantageous is in jigs and fixtures which are often required in assembly operations. CRDM can provide jigs and fixtures, but also carry out the assembly operations themselves. Our engineering experience and expertise allows us to provide innovative manufacturing solutions and successfully manage the process for you.